Inflame your customer experience and spark sales success.

Stuntwoman and sales expert Brittany Baldwin ignites the spark in your business to fire up the customer experience. She works with teams to accelerate results and turn fizzling sales into raging bonfires.

"What would happen if everybody in your business lifted their performance by just 1%?"

Business leaders have the opportunity to recalibrate their teams by harnessing the power of continuous improvement. By making micro shifts across each stage of the customer journey, incremental and sustainable growth will be achieved.

"Start the right fires and put the wrong ones out."

Brittany shares simple ways to explode your team's potential, leaving attendees ready to spark their 1% shift.
